PDi is the publishing authority for a global demolition, concrete cutting, recycling and concrete floor management market worth at least US$ 55 Billion next year.

PDi, Professional Demolition International magazine, founded in 2000 is the only worldwide magazine devoted to serving the entire concrete sawing and drilling, demolition and recycling industries.

A broad coverage

PDi is distributed worldwide to more than 9,000 companies. It has also a large internet coverage through separate news letters, website and Facebook. It is estimated that each issue is read by at least a minimum of six people at the same company/address. This means that we expect that at least 80,000 people read each issue plus numerous internet readers that is hard to count. Every issue of PDi Magazine always contains interesting and useful information about what is new and what is going on within the demolition, concrete sawing and drilling, concrete floor grinding and polishing, recycling, industrial cleaning and soil remediation industries around the globe. Each year we publish country surveys including valuable figures, a number of special product features and company profiles. We also regularly estimate the size of the demolition, concrete sawing and drilling, floor grinding and recycling industries in total and separated country by country. PDi also maintains close relationships with several branch associations, which are regularly covered in the magazine. PDi Magazine is a member of the International Association of Concrete Drillers & Sawers as well as the European Demolition Association.

Growing industries

The total value of the world's professional demolition, concrete cutting, recycling industries and related activities is estimated to be well over US$ 35 Billions, and is steadily growing year by year.

Our qualified staff at your service

DEMOLITION Today

DemolitionToday – The Digital News Channel for the Global Demolition Industry

PDi and PDa Magazines are taking a new step in the publishing industry by launching the online news channel DemolitionToday. The Covid-19 pandemic hits very hard but it also brings some good side effects with it. The pandemic has made people and companies find new ways to communicate. We have since March this year seen tonnes of digital examples of that like Webinar, Video conferences, Teams and Google Meets, Go To Meeting to name a few. It has also made PDi and PDa Magazines take a completely new step in widening its channels to reach its globally audience.

The world's first demolition channel online

PDi and PDa Magazines are jointly launching a Youtube based news channel called DemolitionToday. The idea is to broadcast short news shots on a regular basis. The information is collected from the content published in the magazines. Initially the idea was to broadcast weekly but due to that a special recording studio is in the process of being set up the target is to broadcast two times per month to start with. Each episode of DemolitionToday is between 5 to 8 minutes loaded with the latest news from the industry. There are also commercial slots in between the news section. The plan in the future is also to make longer documentaries about manufacturer and contractors in the industry. The longer documentaries will be called DemolitionToday Special.

The DemolitionToday episodes can be found on the website www.demolitiontoday.tv or directly on the Youtube channel DemolitionToday. Of course all episodes can be watched on Facebook, Instagram and LinkedIn and will be shared on a large amount of groups on Social Media. In order to get notified before each episode is broadcasted it is recommended to become a subscriber to the DemolitionToday YouTube channel.
